

Cryoserver with Office 365

Cryoserver enriches the search capabilities and speeds up eDiscovery – it streamlines Outlook searches with standard and advanced interfaces, giving you more value from Microsoft 365

“When users leave we can almost instantly delete their mailbox thus freeing up licences/space. The search engine for Cryoserver is much better than Microsoft’s delegated mailbox access to search”

Luke Braham,
IT Manager, Red
Commerce

Migrating to Microsoft 365 is easy with Cryoserver - it requires no agent, meets PCI and legal requirements, saves time and stress

Microsoft 365 (formerly Office 365)

While Microsoft 365 does wonderful things, its email archiving leaves much to be desired. That’s where Cryoserver can help. Our solution stores a copy of every email sent and received by your organisation securely, remaining independent of Microsoft 365. Its search and preservation functionality complement Microsoft 365, enabling you to find the emails you need faster.

Cryoserver can also help to reduce the cost of subscriptions in Microsoft 365. This is because employees who leave your organisation can close their Microsoft 365 account quickly as you have copies of their emails in the archive.

Cryoserver helps you:

- Get the very best out of Microsoft 365 and make your email a valuable business asset
- Streamline your migration to Microsoft 365, empowering all users with simpler, faster access to email, and future-proofing your move to the cloud
- Search faster and more accurately. Cryoserver makes Outlook the best place to find any email, whenever you need it

What will you do with your existing emails?

From day one on Microsoft 365, your users will still want access to their old emails. Making this available means either importing data to the cloud, or running two email systems in parallel.

Cryoserver gives you a better way to preserve all your emails and make them available to all users via Outlook. We also offer you a simple and effective way to manage your move to the cloud, without disrupting email access for your users.

How will you manage people who leave your organisation?

Cryoserver keeps a copy of every email for as long as the business requires but only licenses for live users. Leavers' emails are retained, and no user licence is needed, guaranteeing cost-effective access to all legacy email. Cryoserver's simple delegated email access function is the perfect solution to deal with leavers' email.

What happens if you leave Microsoft 365?

There are many email service providers available today, and your organisation can shop around for the best value. If you switch provider though, it can be time-consuming, complex and expensive – a difficult project to undertake.

With Cryoserver, your business is free to change service providers. We'll hold all the email sent and received by your organisation, and facilitate an effortless migration from one service provider to another. This makes Cryoserver the perfect cloud enabler for your business.

How does Cryoserver enhance Microsoft 365?

Our solution works seamlessly with Microsoft 365 to enhance your end-users' email experience. Offering the fastest, simplest and most advanced search functionality on the market today, Cryoserver enables end- users to find any email in seconds, without leaving Outlook.

It also provides a sophisticated and fast eDiscovery tool for authorised privileged users. It closely monitors and audits eDiscovery searches. And it can provide evidential weight for legal and HR issues - when your business needs them most.
